A TALE TO TELL ...

SUBJECT: Three Old Ladies

Three sisters, ages 92, 94, and 96 live in a house together.

One night the 96 year old sister draws a bath. She puts her foot in and pauses ... She yells down the stairs, "Was I getting in or out of the bath?"

The 94 year old sister yells back, "I don't know. I'll come up the stair and see." She starts up the stair and pauses ... "Was I going up the stair or down???"

The 92 year old sister is sitting at the kitchen table having tea listening to her sisters. She shakes her head and says, "I sure hope I never get that forgetful." She knocks on wood for good measure. She then yells, "I'll come up and help you both as soon as I see who's at the door???"

GIFT COLLEGE INVESTING PLANSM

ANNOUNCING A COLLEGE INVESTING PLAN THAT'S IN A CLASS BY ITSELF.

GIFT College Investing Plan not only helps you send your child to college, it also lets you save on taxes in two ways: You save as your money grows federal income tax-deferred and when you make withdrawals for qualified college expenses that are free from federal income tax.[†]

When you consider that by 2019 you'll need between $100,000 and $300,000 to send your child to college, it's easy to see why this tax-advantaged, 529 college savings product is so popular.^{††}

Call today and I'll also explain the estate planning benefits and how you retain control of the money.

Please call for a copy of the GIFT Program Description Booklet. An investment in GIFT does not guarantee that college costs will be met.

[†]Qualified distributions will be free of federal income tax effective 1/1/02, expiring 12/31/10 absent further legislation. Earnings on non-qualified withdrawals are subject to federal and any applicable state income tax and a 10% federal penalty.

^{††} Costs vary and public institutions tend to be less expensive than private ones. However, according to the U.S. Department of Education, the average annual cost of sending your child to a public college will be $23,718 in 2019, and the cost of a private college or university will be $77,541.
